What is Bus Network Redesign?

This is a once-in-a-generation opportunity to make bold improvements to the MBTA's bus network for the people that depend on it most.

Why are we doing this?

Greater Boston has changed. New employment districts have emerged, demographics have shifted, congestion has increased, and travel patterns have changed. But our bus network hasn't changed with it.

We want to hear from you.

We're proposing a better bus network and want to hear what you think. Please join us at a virtual public meeting where we will present the draft network, answer your questions about it, and listen to your feedback. This is the first in a series of meetings about the draft network that will be held in May, June, and July.

Visit:
