Commented [BS1]: do we want to provide an option to reschedule? If so we should mention that and give a rescheduling deadline if we have one. If someone loses an appeal for not showing up and then contacts us with a great reason, what leniency do we have/grey room do we want to offer?

Commented [FL2R1]: Rescheduling is super easy. They just have to go back on the citation portal, cancel their date and time and reschedule it.
